

Russell Sharply Criticizes Acts of Adm. Burke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) denounced today what he termed "savage reprisals" against Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, for opposing the administration's military reorganization plan.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, announced the committee would call no further members of the joint chiefs of staff for quizzing until they are assured that they can speak their own mind freely.

He charged that the remarks of Secretary of Defense McNamara aimed at Burke for his testimony before the committee are in conflict with the secretary's prior promises to the committee that witnesses could speak freely.

McNamara, speaking to newsmen at Quantico, Va., Saturday, expressed disappointment and regret at Burke's stand on reorganization. His remarks were widely interpreted as a public rebuke to Burke, but the defense secretary later said this was not so. He said he could disagree with a service chief without rebuking him.

Russell released his blast in a prepared statement at a news conference, at which he rejected McNamara's statements that his remarks were not a rebuff.

Russell pointed to the call-down of Burke as evidence that any reorganization plan which is adopted now should contain provisions guaranteeing the right of military personnel to testify frankly.

There was no immediate comment from McNamara.

"The clear implication in the secretary's statement that the

Water Skiers Keep Going Despite Rain

Both Lacy and Harper were elated at completing the trip in the fast time, but both quickly admitted they were "very tired."

Rules Highway Needn't Pay for Toad Suck Ferry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled 4-3 today that the Highway Commission is not required to pay $25,000 for the purchase of Toad Suck Ferry.

The ferry operates across the Arkansas River and connects Highway 60 between Faulkner and Perry counties.

The 1957 Legislature appropriated the $25,000 for purchase of the ferry which has been operated by Clay Cross as a toll facility. When the state takes over the ferry will be free.

The Highway Department appraised the ferry at slightly more than $3,000.

Billy S. Mabry, who said he frequently used the ferry, filed suit in Pulaski Chancery Court to require the commission to buy the ferry at the full price of $25,000.

Mabry's lawyers argued it was the intention of the Legislature that this be done.

Chancellor Murray O. Reed agreed with this interpretation but was overruled by the Supreme Court majority today.

Highway Commission attorneys contended that Mabry had no legal right to maintain the suit.

Associate Justice J. S. Holt, who wrote the majority opinion, noted that the word "shall" was used in the legislative measure, but he interpreted this to mean "may" in the present instance.

Under today's opinion, the Highway CKO on apparently is free to negotiate the price with the Cross.

Chief Justice Carleton, Harris and Associate Justices Paul Ward and Sam Robinson dissented. In their view, the legislatively-fixed price was mandatory.

Governor in Poke at His Opponent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today said that gubernatorial candidate Chas. F. Pinkbeiner "showed how little he knows about the fiscal affairs of the state" in his Saturday night television speech.

Pinkbeiner charged that Faubus had permitted extravagance and waste and "is the loudest businessman I have ever seen."

He cited figures which he said showed that in 1946 the cost for extra help in state government was $65,501 and in 1957 it was $57,717.

Faubus said today that $4,700,000 of the 1957 total was for Highway Department, "over which I have no control." He cited appropriations to other agencies he said he did not control and declared:

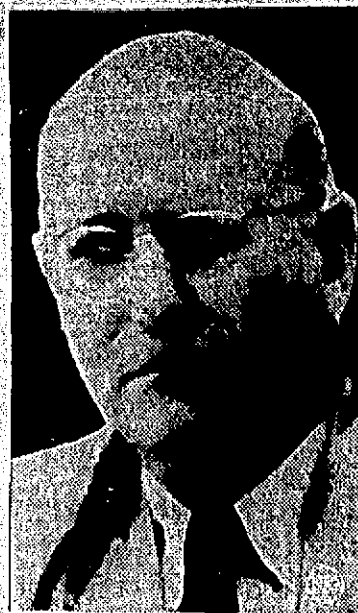

"The true fact is that the extra help employed in the agencies within my administration is insignificant compared to the total."

"But all this is irrelevant because candidate Pinkbeiner doesn't know a thing about this extra help including the use of it in the Highway Department or how it became to be known as extra help in the state budgets."

"Back in 1946, extra help was not listed in the appropriations as such. It was being used, just as it is today, but it wasn't itemized as it is today. That is why the acts of Arkansas reflect the low figure of $65,501 for 1946 if that is the actual figure."

The truth is in that year the Highway Department was spending over one million dollars for extra help. Other departments also were using it."

"I know what this extra help money goes for but I am going to let candidate Pinkbeiner explain it to the people after all he was the one who threw out those figures Saturday night to give the false impression that something was very wrong in the state government."

Hungarians in New York Demonstrate

NEW YORK (AP) — Hungarian refugees demonstrating outside headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations Sunday (ried to crash through police lines and trampled several policemen.

The demonstrators smashed three windows of the Park Avenue building. Seven policemen and a number of pickets were injured, none seriously.

"The violent outbreak came, police said, at what appeared to be a prearranged signal. It turned into a melee between 850 pickets and nearly 100 policemen. Nine pickets were arrested.

The demonstrators had been peacefully marching and handing out leaflets of the Federation of Former Hungarian Political Prisoners before the violence erupted.

This was the second outbreak of violence at the Manhattan building over the weekend. Anti-Soviet pickets broke two windows Saturday and three arrests followed.

James A. Chism, 66, Dies at McCaskill Sat.

James Arthur Chism, aged 66, a resident of the McCaskill area, died at his home Saturday.

Survivors include his wife, a son, Vernon C. Chism of McCaskill; two sisters, Mrs. M. M. Matthews and Mrs. Johnnie Cooley of McCaskill.

Services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Friendship Baptist Church. Burial will be in the cemetery.

Thefts Bring Trio of Charges Here

Hope City Police filed charges to petty larceny against three Negroes over the weekend.

M. C. Reed and Euredell Warren were charged following the theft of some tools Friday night from the Tol-E-Tex Company of Third Mabel Nelson was arrested following the theft of some groceries at the A&P Store Saturday.

The first concrete effort to change the status of Hope from that of territory to a state was a bill introduced in Congress in 1937.

Differences in Water Bill to Be Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Eisenhower likely to sign whatever bill agreed upon, a Senate-House conference committee meets tomorrow to try to draft a final version of a compromise measure authorizing 11 1/2 billion dollars of water projects.

This is the bill which Eisenhower has twice vetoed in recent years.

However, the compromise version was worked out by congressional leaders and representatives of the administration. Each branch then passed its own bill and they differ in some few respects, generally regarded as minor.

The Senate version is understood to be entirely acceptable to the administration while the House version has a few provisions the White House doesn't like.

However, Republicans have said they believe Eisenhower would sign either version.

There are actually about 13 points of differences between the bills but several of these are technical or involve minor provisions.

On five projects the bills differ. These differences include:

Arkansas — Lone Rock Dam. House bill authorizes installation of penstock and other facilities for future installation of power; Senate bill does not.

Another difference is in the Millwood project in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

The House bill says penstock and other power facilities may be installed in the dams involved. The Senate bill adds that they may be installed if approved by the Army Engineers, Power Commission and Budget Bureau.

Explains Why Celebration Confidential

WASHINGTON (AP) — The confidential label placed on plans to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday has been blamed on an anonymous government secretary.

"She apparently did it on her own initiative. She thought she was doing the right thing, but she had no authorization to do it," said Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.), chairman of the Lincoln Bicentennial Commission.

The problem was settled and the blame established at a meeting of the commission's board Saturday. Cooper said he didn't know the name of the Library of Congress shorthand reporter involved.

The meeting last month, covered by the minutes marked confidential, raised the commission's budget from $10,000 to more than $700,000 and involved a furious partisan fight over staff appointments.

However, members of the commission greeted with mixed grins and snorts of indignation copies of the minutes with the label "Confidential Information for Members of the Commission."

Lemley Denies Motion to Stay Own Order to Suspend Integration

Negro Leaders Tell President Race Is Shocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Negro leaders today told President Eisenhower that court-ordered suspension of school integration at Little Rock, Ark., has shocked and outraged Negro citizens and millions of their fellow Americans.

At a White House conference with Eisenhower, the Negroes said the court decision handed down last weekend is being construed, rightly or wrongly, as a green light to lawless elements in their defiance of federal authority.

The views of the Negro leaders were set forth in a prepared statement, which was handed to newsmen after their 45-minute meeting with the President.

A. Philip Randolph, president of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said at a news conference that Eisenhower made no comment on the court ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry Lemley.

Randolph added that neither did Eisenhower make any promise nor commitments with respect to a nine-point program offered by the Negro leaders with a view to improving the conditions of their people.

The immediate emphasis was on the Little Rock situation and school integration, but the Negro leaders had made it plain in advance they would raise a wide range of civil rights issues.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wide range of civil rights issues was expected to come up at the White House conference today between President Eisenhower and four Negro leaders.

Immediate emphasis was on the question whether the federal government is doing enough in the school integration field. This issue was sharpened by a new court order permitting delay of integration at Little Rock, Ark.

But the four Negroes who had a date with the President said the talk would cover a wider area.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said the Little Rock situation would be a major topic.

But it was pointed out that the meeting was set up ahead of Saturday's order by U.S. Dist. Judge Lemley.

Candidates to Draw for Places on Ballot

Hempstead County's Democratic Central Committee will meet at 10 a. m. Wednesday at Hope City Hall, Chairman W. S. Atkins announced today. The purpose of the meet is to draw for places on the July 29 ballot.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Herndon-Cornelius Chapel by the Rev. Rufus Sorrells. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Active pallbearers: Terrell Baker, Lester Fincher, Whit Davis, Leslie Johnson, Herbert Johnson and H. L. Beach.

Reverend E. N. Glover, pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church in Hope's Oak Grove community will give the invocation at lunch. Entertainment will consist of talent numbers by youth members of New Farmers of America, and 4-H Clubs.

At 1:30 Dr. John W. White, assistant director of the Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station at Fayetteville will tell visitors "What the Experiment Station Means to the Farmer." Principal speaker for the educational event will be Reverend Robert Dickerson, pastor of Sulphur Baptist Church in Camden.

Other participants in the program will be researchers with the Entomology, Plant Pathology and Horticulture Departments of the Agricultural Experiment Station; personnel with ASC and Arkansas Power and Light Co.; and A. L. Cresswell, vocational agriculture instructor, Conway County Training School, Menifee. The Negro Home Demonstration Council and Farmers Organization of Hempstead County will sell lunch on the station grounds.

All Negroes interested in agriculture and in the Southwest Branch Experiment Station are invited to attend. Mr. Billie said.

The average farm in New Jersey consists of about 75 acres, compared to between 200 and 700 in Arizona and California.

FEDERAL JUDGE HARRY J. LEMLEY, above, has granted the Little Rock, Ark., school board permission to suspend integration until the middle of the 1960-61 school term. In the public interest, including the interest of both white and Negro students at Little Rock.

Washington Church Is Historical

The Methodist Church building at Washington, Arkansas, is of special interest to the members of that denomination from a historical standpoint. Hempstead County is the birthplace of Arkansas Methodism.

Methodism had its beginning in Arkansas in September 1822 when a church was organized by the "Missouri Conference at what came to be known as Henry's Chapel, about three miles north of Washington. The chapel was situated on a ridge overlooking the Ozark creek bottom. It was named for its first pastor, John Henry. The spot is now marked with a small monument on the site and by another standing on Ozan.

The oldest standing structure connected with Methodism in Arkansas is the Methodist Church building at Washington, according to Charles Moss Williams, historian and author who has made a lifetime study of area history. The Methodist Church building at Washington was "constructed in 1861."

This structure is still in use as a church and is open to visitors. The people of Washington are planning an open house on July 4th to call attention to the historical importance of the town.

Station Tours, Demonstrations, and talks will highlight the program for the annual Negro Visiting Day to be here June 27 at the University of Arkansas Southwest Branch Experiment Station, according to Cecil M. Billie, Assistant director in charge.

A tour of the Station heads the program beginning at 9:30 a. m. with stops at vegetable insect control plots, forest insect experiments and discussion of ASC (Agricultural Stabilization Committee) payments, cucumber and tomato production areas and the muscadine vineyard. From 10:30 until noon there will be demonstrations on cotton insect control, tree identification, peach grafting and budding and farm electricity uses.

Reverend E. N. Glover, pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church in Hope's Oak Grove community will give the invocation at lunch. Entertainment will consist of talent numbers by youth members of New Farmers of America, and 4-H Clubs.

Negro Students Want to Go Back

NEW YORK (AP) — "We want to go back..." says Melba Pattillo, one of the nine Negro children who attended Little Rock Central High School this year.

She was talking today about a federal judge's action suspending integration at the Arkansas school for 2 1/2 years.

"We still feel something will happen—something to get us back to Central High," said Melba in a Little Rock interview with the New York Post.

Melba said, "We'll just keep on hoping" to go back to Central High. "We knew they'd try everything to get rid of us."

Minniejean's Father Held in Shooting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police today held Willie Bob Brown, father of a Negro girl expelled from Central High School last March, in connection with the fatal shooting of another Negro man.

Detective Sats. Lester Cranford and Clint McMurphy said Brown, 57, had admitted firing three .45 bullets into Elmer Isaac, 68, when the latter emerged from a private club yesterday morning. The officers said Brown told them that Isaac was mad at him and had saw Isaac reach for a gun.

A .32 caliber automatic was found beneath the dead man's body, Cranford and McMurphy reported. Brown was jailed on an open charge pending investigation.

Minniejean, Brown's daughter, was one of nine Negro students enrolled in Central High under federal court order last September. After her expulsion, she entered the private interracial New Lincoln School in New York City under a scholarship.

Lemley in a written opinion which was issued an hour after recess of the hearing, said: "To grant this motion and stay the enforcement of our judgment would to a large extent nullify our order in the case since it will in all probability take months to carry the case through the Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court."

"And in the meantime, the situation at Central High School, which we have found to be intolerable from an educational standpoint, would continue," he said.

A. F. House of Little Rock appeared for the school board. Oral arguments took only six minutes.

The courtroom was nearly filled with spectators. Branton was the only Negro attorney present.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley today briefly recessed a hearing on a motion for staying his own order to suspend school integration here.

Lemley said he was recessing the hearing "for a very short time." He asked lawyers for both sides to stand by.

The hearing started at 9:30 a. m. (CST).

"I feel that in view of the importance and gravity of the situation, I should prepare what I have to say in writing," Lemley said.

Wiley Branton, attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, filed the motion for a stay Saturday shortly after Lemley's integration suspension order was announced. Branton sought a stay until the suspension ruling could be appealed and already has filed a notice of appeal.

"Unless extraordinary measures are taken," Branton told the judge, "no decision by the court of appeals will be possible until October."

Little Rock school board attorney A. F. House opposed Branton's motion.

"We would say that if the public is to prevail, the stay must be overruled," House told the court.

Branton has said that should Lemley reject a stay, the motion could be carried to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis and if necessary to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Declares Stay Would Not Solve the Situation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley today denied a motion to stay his own order of Saturday which suspended integration in Little Rock schools for 2 1/2 years.

"The Judge said that to grant a stay would keep the racial situation at Central High School intolerable because too much time would be consumed in processing a Negro attorney's appeal of his order."

Wiley Branton, attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, who made the motion, said he planned to telephone the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis ask for instructions on appealing the integration suspension order. He already had filed a notice of appeal here.

"I don't know at this point exactly how this is going to be handled," Branton told a reporter. "I may have to go to the circuit court judge's home."

He said nothing about appealing today's rejection for a stay.

"The Little Rock School Board opposed Branton's motion for a stay on ground it would be intolerable for the Negro pupils only not the public."

Lemley in a written opinion which was issued an hour after recess of the hearing, said: "To grant this motion and stay the enforcement of our judgment would to a large extent nullify our order in the case since it will in all probability take months to carry the case through the Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court."

Declares Stay

By CLIFTON WELLS
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The stay was set today for another legal round in the boiling controversy over racial integration at Central High School.

Negro attorneys were prepared for another appearance in U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley's court, this time to ask the 74-year-old jurist to stay his own order for a 24-year suspension of desegregation at the big school.

The motion for stay pending appeal was a move to keep seven Negro students in classes with approximately 2,000 whites when Central High begins its next school year in September.

Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said that should Lemley reject a stay, the motion could be carried to the U. S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis and if necessary to the U. S. Supreme Court.

A stay by any of the courts, Branton said, would mean that the legal situation at Central High would be just as it was when the 1957-58 school year ended.

At Least 10 Die Violently in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 10 persons died violently in Arkansas over the weekend, doubling the state's violent death toll for the week which ended Sunday midnight. The total for the seven days was 20 deaths.

Traffic accidents with 10 victims accounted for half of the week's long count. Five persons drowned, two were shot to death, two others died of unknown causes and one person was run over by a train and killed.

Little Rock police today were holding Willie Bob Brown, 57, father of a Negro girl expelled from Central High School this year, on an open charge in connection with the slaying of a 68-year-old Negro man.

Delictive Sgt. Lester Cranford and Clint McMurphy said Brown had admitted firing three .45 caliber bullets into Elmer Isaac, also of Little Rock, as Isaac emerged from a private club yesterday morning. Brown told the officers that Isaac was mad at him and he saw Isaac reach for a gun.

Brown's daughter, Minnie Jean, was one of the nine Negro students enrolled at Central high last fall under a federal court order. After her expulsion from the Little Rock school, she attended a private interracial school in New York City.

The week's second shooting occurred at Blytheville where police said a white man shot and killed a Negro prowler.

Police Chief Charlie Short said no charges had been filed against E. A. Vance, 49, in the slaying of Lonnie L. Hill, about 30, also of Blytheville.

Short quoted Vance as saying prowlers had been at his house twice during the week and Saturday night he waited in a small house behind his home, armed with a shotgun. Vance told police that he saw a man look into a window of the main house and then start toward the backdoor before he fired. Inside the big house was Vance's wife and three small children.

Two cars collided on U. S. Highway 50 near West Memphis late Saturday night, killing three persons and injuring five others.

Dead are William T. Thaisey, 40, of Memphis, who was killed instantly; Mrs. W. L. L. Clifton Franks, 35, of Newbern, Tenn.; and Eddie Carter, a 68-year-old West Memphis Negro. Mrs. Franks and Carter died in a West Memphis hospital yesterday.

A collision involving an automobile and two pickup trucks near Blytheville killed Eugene Northcutt, 16, of Blytheville yesterday. State Trooper George Fullerton said Northcutt's car smashed into one of two pickup trucks which had stopped on State Highway 18 while the drivers of the trucks conversed. W. M. Wilson, about 23, a passenger in one of the trucks, was hospitalized with a broken pelvis.

South of Lake Village, Frank Fuller, 49, of Bonita, La., was killed when a car in which he was riding and another automobile collided. Nine other persons were injured, none critically.

A Perry County coroner's jury ruled "cause of death unknown" in the deaths of Charles Burkett, 41, of near Bigelow, and his wife Gladys, about 40.

Sheriff Lloyd Rankin said the couple's bodies were found lying in the middle of State Highway 113 near Bigelow late Saturday night. He said Harold Ray Johnson, 20, of Bigelow testified that he mistook the figures in the road as pieces of cardboard and that his pickup truck passed over the bodies before he realized what the objects were. Rankin said no charges were filed.

Willis Johnson, 24-year-old Crockett Negro, drowned yesterday while fishing in the Ouachita River near backwaters near Crossett. Witnesses said he drowned while swimming from the bank to keep his fishing line which had become entangled in some brush 20 feet from shore.

Pack Away Souvenirs Of Bygone Boy Friend

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 17 and in love with a boy of 18 who recently asked me to go steady. The only quarrels we have are over a picture and a ring given me by a former boy friend who was killed in a car accident. I wear the ring and keep the picture in my room. My boy friend objects. —Ellie

Dear Ellie: And well he might. When you take on a new love, it's time to pack souvenirs of the old one in moth balls — or lavender, if you prefer it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm nearing 40 and realize that my outlook for matrimony will be dim if I don't latch on to a husband pronto. There are two men in my life, either of whom I think I could be coaxed into the Lohengrin routine. One is a divorced man who seems interested in me only when he wants to borrow money and the other is a quite bachelor who offers no excitement, but has a good bank account. Which should I choose? —Reluctant Spinster

Dear R. S.: You are probably prospect no. 1 on the divorced man's sucker list. Since he only pays when his funds run low, it's obvious he isn't interested in you, only in your bank balance. Even a desperate spinster of 40 would be foolish to grab a man she doesn't love, respect or even admire. If these are your best candidates, continue in single blessedness, which is much better than marital misery.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm married. Lemley conceded that "the Negro students in Little Rock district have a constitutional right not to be excluded from any of the public schools on account of race; but the board has convincingly shown that the time for the enjoyment of that right has not yet come."

Lemley in a 25-page opinion Saturday, said his ruling did not constitute yielding to unlawful force or violence but was an exercise of discretion and good judgment. A breathing spell could permit a change in community attitude and easing of racial tensions which might smooth integration at the later date, he said.

The judge noted too that Horace Mann High School for Negroes there was considered on a par with Central High and thus the seven Negroes could still obtain a good high school education.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I recently broke my engagement because I got sick and tired of babying my fiancée. He's a great one for silks and the least disagreement between us sent him into a fit of pouting that would last for days. I enjoyed him, out of them for months but finally quit. He said he'd take me back only if I called him. I still love him and I guess he loves me as he's capable of caring for anyone besides himself. Do you think I should ask him back? —Patty

Dear Patty: Your engagement was a period of misery, multiply that a thousandfold and you can see what marriage to you ever-moping ex-fiancee would be like. Stay in the clear. The man could never carry the responsibilities of married life.

Jackie Robinson Raps Decision

LITTLE ROCK RAP—Former major league baseball player Jackie Robinson leveled criticism yesterday at court-ordered integration delay at Central High School.

In a speech at an annual meeting of the Urban League of Greater Little Rock, Robinson said Negroes "want justice today—not 2½ years from now."

He described as "shocking" U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley's decision Saturday allowing a delay in Central High integration until mid-September, 61.

Negroes "should do everything short of violence to achieve rights of American citizens," Robinson declared.

The former Brooklyn Dodger player, the first Negro to make the major leagues, spoke to an overflow audience at the 1,000-seat capacity Dunbar Community Center for Negroes. White persons were scattered through the auditorium.

Robinson said much of the friction between Negroes and whites stems from their lack of knowledge of each other.

He said more opportunity for contact between races would create better relations.

In 1926 E. G. "Cannon Ball" Baker drove a two-ton truck carrying a capacity load from New York to San Francisco in the then record-breaking time of 5 days, 17 hours, 30 minutes.

Willie Pep an Tgles With Pat McCoy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Pep, the old pro from Hartford, Conn., will try to strengthen his claims for another shot at the featherweight title he held so long when he boxes Pat McCoy of Ireland today at New Bedford, Mass.

Wily Willie has won 28 of his last 29 and hopes to boost himself into a title match with Hogan (Kid) Bassey, the current 120 pound ruler in mid-September at Boston.

Will Greaves, the Canadian whom the late Jake Mintz was trying to build into an attraction, returns to New York as the Canadian middleweight champion tonight to box Otis Woodard of New York at St. Nicholas Arena.

He won the Canadian crown by knocking out Cobby McCluskey in April.

Woodard, a well-conditioned plodder, outpointed Eddie Andrews in April and stopped him in the fifth round of a May rematch.

Da Mont will telecast to some sections.

Highlyrated middleweight Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., visits the home town of Bobby Boyd for a Wednesday TV rematch at Chicago Stadium. Calhoun stopped Boyd in two rounds last November and thinks he can do it again, despite 1958 defeats by Spider Webb and Joey Giardullo.

Matchmaker Jack Barrett returns to the old days of three 10-rounders Friday at Madison Square Garden with the featured TV match a lightweight pairing of Carlos Ortiz and Johnny Busso two New Yorkers.

Larsen Tames Tigers With 15-0 Shutout

DETROIT (AP)—Everything is anticlimactic for Don Larsen. Try as he does the New York Yankee right-hander undoubtedly never will repeat his miracle of Oct. 4, 1956.

That was the memorable day he pitched the first perfect game in World Series history.

He came pretty close to pitching another no-hitter Sunday. The Detroit Tigers collected only two singles off the no-winout pitcher as he blanked them 15-0. It was his third shutout of the season.

Unlike that sunny day in Yankee Stadium, there was no suspense. Billy Martin, who was on Larsen's side in the perfect game, touched him for a line drive single in the second. Larsen retired the next 16 batters before Gail Harris grounded a single through the infield in the seventh.

Only three other Tigers reached base. Larsen walked the first two batters to face him in the first and issued another pass in the eighth.

"No, I don't think it was my best since the no-hitter," Larsen said. "I've had better stuff in other games."

Larsen seems to pitch his best when the going is toughest. Before today the Tigers had whipped the Yankees seven straight times. Casey Stengel barred his clubhouse doors after Saturday's 1-0 loss and gave his rumbling league leaders a stern chewing out.

It must have worked. The Yankees wreaked vengeance with six runs in the first inning and gave Larsen more working margin than he needed.

Delegation to National NHA Convention Returns Home

Miss Delois McFadden, President of Lincoln High School N. H. A. Chapter, Washington, Arkansas, returned home June 15, from Greensboro, N. C., where she attended the National N. H. A. Convention. This trip was made possible by the local and state N. H. A. Chapters.

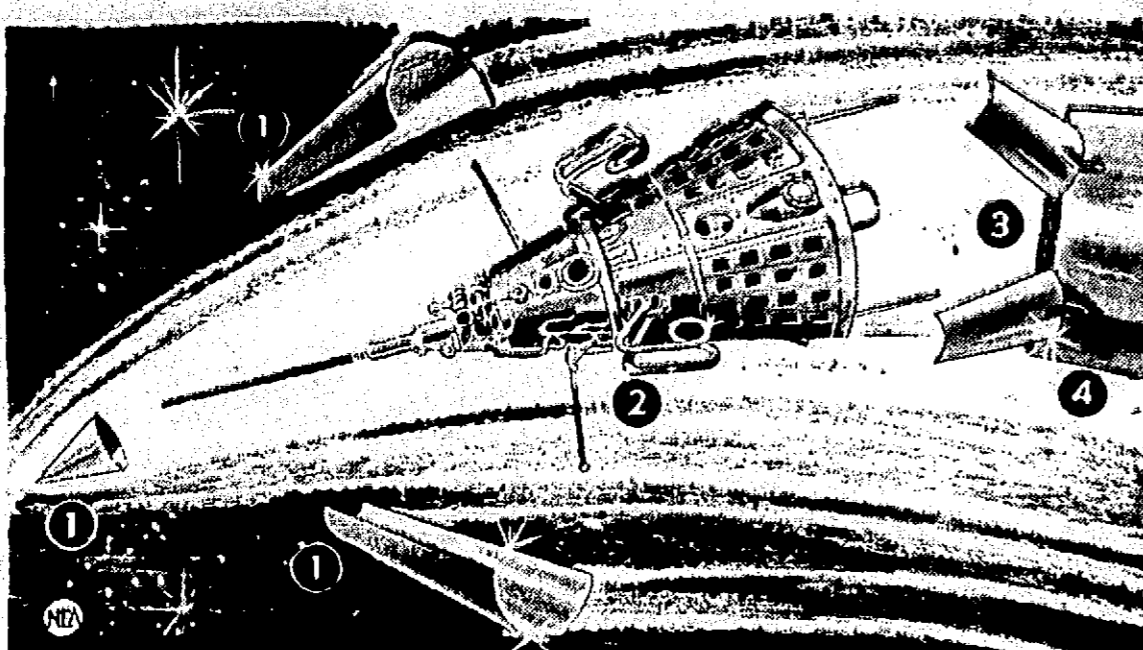

Miss McFadden reports a very interesting and educational trip. She had an opportunity to visit several of the leading colleges and cities on this trip. The faculty and students of Lincoln High School are very proud to have had a representative at this convention.

SPUTNIK AND SPUTNIKETTES — Russia's huge Sputnik III had four small companions placed in orbit with it on May 15, according to the Soviet newspaper Pravda. Drawing above, based on a diagram published in the official paper, shows: (1) protective nose cone and shields, separated; (2) Sputnik III; (3) separated shields, attached to; (4) carrier rocket. Four objects were sighted over this country shortly after the satellite was launched. The rocket and Sputnik III are still being observed and are now traveling about a half hour apart. But the nose cone and shields, being light and more susceptible to atmospheric friction, may already have fallen.

BATTLEFIELD OF TOMORROW — The drawing above pictures a battle scene of the future if the weapons currently under development are employed. A pilotless, plastic plane (1) swoops down for a look at a line of enemy tanks approaching a bridge which has just been blown up (2) by a nuclear blast. The charge was set by soldiers, racing away from the scene (3) in a 140-mile-an-hour personnel carrier. New 18-ton tank (4) zeros-in on enemy tanks with its atomic cannon. The plastic construction of the plane will enable it to evade enemy radar. It will carry high speed cameras, radar and television plus an atomic warhead and fly at speeds up to 400 m.p.h. Two models, one propeller and one jet, have been developed. The small nuclear demolition kit is being prepared for Army Engineers to blast out bridges and other obstructions. The speedy personnel carrier, expected to replace the truck and jeep, will be shielded to protect infantrymen from radiation. The new streamlined tank is expected to travel at more than 35 m.p.h.

TOWN TAMER

By FRANK GRUBER

© 1957 by Frank Gruber. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

By FRANK GRUBER

THE STORY: Tom Rosser, a former marshal, has gone to Great Plains, Mont., to be a "town tamer." Although the railroad is paying Rosser to bring about law and order, Rosser wants to avenge the death of his sweetheart, Carol Grannan. Carol stopped a bullet meant for Rosser. Her assassin was hired by Riley Concor, who now runs a saloon in Great Plains.

Chapter VII
Walking down the street, Rosser saw the sign of a livery stable and, entering the wide doorway, found the proprietor currying a fine bay gelding.

"I need a horse for a few hours," he told the man. "Wonder if you could rent me one?" "I could, but I'd rather sell," the proprietor said. "How about his one for $110? Throw in a good saddle for twenty more."

"I've got some land out in the country," Rosser said. "That's why I want to rent a horse. I can locate the place. He took the land deed from his inside breast pocket. Perhaps you can direct me to Section 88."

"Easy enough. Which quarter of Section 88?" "All of it."

The liveryman showed sudden interest. "Just happens, I been thinking of buying a little piece of land. Make you an offer for your section."

"Without even seeing it?" "I've seen it. The land's pretty fair. Ninety acres, eh? Give you $1,000 for it."

"The land must be a little better than fair." "Twelve hundred."

"No." The liveryman exhaled heavily. "It was a good try. All right, mister. Your land's two miles south and one mile west, and since you aren't going to sell to me, I'll tell you that it's about the best section in this entire area. Some of the best soil in Montana. The grass on it right now is almost a foot high and there's a little stream runs smack through the middle. And not only that, but it's close in. In five years Great Plains will be at your doorstep. Hang onto the land, mister. It's better than a gold mine. Make you more money in the long run."

The liveryman got a saddle and plunked it on the gelding. "Since you're the owner of a square mile of the best land around here, I'm going to trust you. The horse — and saddle — are yours. Pay me when you get the money."

Rosser hesitated, the suddenly nodded. "That's a deal, but I'll want you to take care of the horse until I get settled."

"Good enough." The liveryman cinched down the saddle and slipped on a bridle, handed the reins to Rosser. He mounted and then rode out of the stable.

He rode south of town, along a faded trail. After two miles he came to a couple of stakes driven into the ground. One read: Section 88. Another, some 50 feet south, had the figures 89 scrawled on it.

The liveryman had not exaggerated. The section of land was almost a square mile. The grass was a foot high and there was a stream running through the middle. The liveryman had not lied. The land was indeed the best in the area. The liveryman had not lied. The land was indeed the best in the area.

One Candidate Sidelined by Hoarse Voice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One major gubernatorial candidate was sidelined by hoarseness today while another embarked on the first week of his formal campaign.

Chancellor Lee Ward's heavy schedule to speeches was interrupted when his physician ordered him to cancel a dozen campaign speeches today and tomorrow because of an infected throat. Since his formal opening June 14, the Paragould judge had been busily darting around the state in a helicopter.

Chris Finkbeiner, the second of three Democratic candidates opposing Gov. Orval Faubus' third term bid, got his formal opening out of the way with a speech at Pine Bluff last Saturday night. His schedule today takes him to the Hope area for visits at Prescott, Rosston, Stamps and Lewisville.

Faubus has yet to open his campaign formally and plans to spend the day in his state Capitol office.

Finkbeiner opened with a broadside in the direction of the incumbent, terming the Faubus administration as "one of the most extravagant state governments we've ever had."

The Little Rock meat packer, who previously had pledged to run the state government on a business-like basis, asserted that Faubus was "the loudest businessman I ever saw."

He said a third term would give Faubus dictatorial powers and this, he said, is the major issue of the race.

"I can give Arkansas' people a tax-reduction and I can preserve teacher salaries without the 3 per cent sales tax," he said. "As I have explained I am not against the 3 per cent sales tax but it looks like it is going to be voted out." The higher levy will be submitted to a popular vote at the November general election.

Referring to U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley's ruling Saturday for a 2½ suspension of Central High School integration, Finkbeiner said "no the decision about integration is no longer an issue in this election."

Ward, in a prepared statement, said "Judge Lemley's order has returned this issue to the place where I have always said it must be resolved, before the courts place Orval Faubus is obviously

ALLIGATOR LIFT—Albert, largest alligator (400 pounds) in the Cleveland (Ohio) Zoo, gets a lift from Mike Turnaukas, the zoo's reptile keeper. Albert and half a dozen other alligators had a "coming out" party. They'll spend the summer in outdoor pools.

VFW Elects New State Commander

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) —

The Arkansas Veterans of Foreign Wars elected H. B. Harrington of Pine Bluff state commander at the closing session of their annual meeting here yesterday.

Harrington succeeds Dave A. Hogue of McGehee.

Jack J. Strahan of Bull Shoals was elected senior vice commander and E. D. Donaldson of Springfield, junior vice commander.

El Dorado was selected as the site of next year's meeting.

The Bear River is the longest river in the United States which doesn't empty into an ocean. It wanders 560 miles through Utah, Wyoming and Idaho and empties into the Great Salt Lake only 150 miles from its headwaters.
